

Crimes Against Persons / Domestic Violence Calls

If the incident was not witnessed or a lack of visible evidence exists, the responding officer may or may not (depending upon circumstances) complete a report and refer the involved parties to the appropriate Court for resolution. In other cases, the officer may take photographs or collect minor physical evidence or he may call in a detective to take photographs, collect evidence and/or conduct a follow-up investigation.